

PRIVACY POLICY AND PROCEDURES AND PROGRAM FOR PROTECTING CLIENT INFORMATION

Adopted 01/02/2026

Statement of Policy

The Adviser is committed to protecting the confidentiality and security of consumer, customer and former customer information that it collects and will disclose such information only in accordance with the Gramm-Leach-Bliley Act ("GLBA") and rules promulgated thereunder, any other applicable law, rules and regulations and this Privacy Policy.

I. Background

GLBA and Regulation S-P limit the circumstances under which an adviser may disclose nonpublic personal information about their consumers and customers to other persons and require an adviser to disclose to all of its clients the adviser's privacy policies. The Adviser has implemented the following Privacy Policy ("Privacy Policy") and Program for Protecting Client Information (the "Program") to comply with GLBA and Regulation S-P.

II. Summary of Regulation S-P

Regulation S-P has four key features:

- An adviser must provide notice to its consumers about its privacy policies;
- An adviser may only disclose nonpublic personal information about consumers to a nonaffiliated third party if it provides an initial privacy notice and a notice giving the client the opportunity to "opt-out" from the adviser's disclosure of the information;
- A consumer may request that his or her nonpublic personal information not be disclosed to nonaffiliated third parties (although certain information required for processing transactions is still permitted to be disclosed); and
- An adviser must adopt a program reasonably designed to (i) ensure the security and confidentiality of consumer records and information; (ii) protect against any anticipated threats or hazards to the security or integrity of consumer records and information; and (iii) protect against unauthorized access to or use of consumer records or information that could result in substantial harm or inconvenience to any consumer.

III. Privacy Policy

Scope

The Adviser has adopted this Privacy Policy, which applies to the Adviser and the Adviser's affiliates. The Adviser conducts its business affairs primarily through its employees, to whom this Privacy Policy applies. To the extent that service providers are utilized in servicing accounts, confidentiality agreements that comply with Regulation S-P will be put into place.

Service Providers

The Adviser will obtain a representation from each service provider that the service provider will not disclose customer and former customer information of the Adviser other than to carry out the purposes for which the client and former client information was provided to the service provider. The Adviser will seek to obtain this representation from all third party service providers in the contract for services. To the extent the Adviser has not previously obtained this representation from the service provider in the contract for services, the Adviser will seek to obtain such representation.

Privacy Notices

Under Regulation S-P, the Adviser must provide an initial privacy notice to its customers at the time the advisory relationship is established and annually thereafter (unless the Adviser qualifies for the exception from the annual privacy notice requirement set forth in Section 503(f) of GLBA, which is discussed below) and provide an initial privacy notice to its “consumers” before it discloses nonpublic personal information.

Consumers. A “consumer” is an individual who obtains financial products from an adviser that are to be used primarily for personal, family or household purposes, such as one-time investment advice. An individual is a consumer of the Adviser if he or she provides nonpublic personal information to the Adviser in connection with obtaining or seeking to obtain investment advisory services, whether or not the Adviser provides such services to the individual or establishes a continuing relationship with the individual. An individual is not a consumer if he or she provides the Adviser only with his or her name, address, and general areas of investment interest in connection with a request for a prospectus, the Adviser’s Form ADV Part 2A, or other information about financial products or services of the Adviser.

The Adviser must provide an initial privacy notice to its consumers before the Adviser discloses the consumers’ nonpublic personal information to a nonaffiliated third party (other than as necessary to process consumer transactions). The Adviser is not required to send a privacy notice to consumers if the Adviser discloses nonpublic information about its consumers to third parties only pursuant to certain exceptions. The Adviser may satisfy the initial notice requirement by sending a “short form” notice that explains how the consumer may obtain the Adviser’s privacy notice.

Customers. A “customer” is a consumer who uses the product or service of the Adviser on an on-going basis (such as receiving continuous investment advice).¹ The Adviser must provide an initial privacy notice when the Adviser establishes the customer relationship (such as when an investor enters into an advisory contract). Thereafter, the Adviser must provide a privacy notice to a customer at least annually during the continuation of the customer relationship (the “annual privacy notice”), unless the Adviser qualifies for the following exception.

Exception from Annual Privacy Notice Requirement. Under Section 503(f) of GLBA, the Adviser need not provide an annual privacy notice to customers if it provides nonpublic personal information only in accordance with the permitted disclosure provisions of GLBA² and has not changed its ¹ All “customers” are also “consumers,” but not all consumers are customers.

² The permitted disclosure provisions of GLBA are:

1. The Adviser may provide nonpublic personal information to a nonaffiliated third party to perform services for the Adviser or functions on the Adviser’s behalf, if the Adviser (a) provides an initial privacy notice to the customer and (b) enters into a contractual agreement with the third party that prohibits the third party from disclosing or using the information other than to carry out the purposes for which the Adviser disclosed the information. (See Section 502(b)(2));
2. The Adviser may disclose nonpublic personal information as necessary to effect, administer or enforce a transaction that a consumer requests or authorizes, or in connection with (1) processing or servicing a financial product or service that a consumer requests or authorizes, or (2) maintaining or servicing the consumer’s account with the Adviser. (See Section 502(e)(1)(A)-(B)); and policies and practices regarding disclosure of nonpublic personal information since the most recent privacy notice provided to its customers.
3. The Adviser may disclose nonpublic personal information in other limited circumstances. (See Section 502(e)(2)-(8)).

Annual Determination of Qualification for Exception; Recordkeeping. The Adviser must annually determine whether it qualifies for the exception from the annual privacy notice requirement. The basis for such determination shall be documented and maintained in the Adviser's records.

Content of Privacy Notices

The initial and annual privacy notices must be consistent with the Adviser's privacy policies and procedures and contain the following information:

- categories of nonpublic personal information collected by the Adviser;
- categories of nonpublic personal information disclosed by the Adviser;
- categories of affiliates and nonaffiliates to whom the Adviser discloses the nonpublic personal information;
- categories of nonpublic personal information about former customers disclosed by the Adviser and the categories of affiliates and nonaffiliates to whom it is disclosed;
- if nonpublic personal information is disclosed to third parties, an explanation of the right to "opt-out" of such disclosure; and
- a general description of the Adviser's policies and practices with respect to protecting the confidentiality and security of nonpublic personal information.

The initial privacy notice will be delivered with Part 2 of the Adviser's Form ADV, the investment advisory agreement for separate accounts or subscription agreement for private investment vehicle investors that is given to customers at the start of the advisory or investment relationship. Unless an exception applies under Section 503 of the GLBA, the annual notice will be provided to each customer, generally accompanying the quarterly investor letter of each calendar year. The Compliance Officer will review and update the privacy notice at least annually.

Opt-Out Notice

If the Adviser plans to disclose nonpublic personal information (other than pursuant to certain exceptions), the Adviser will provide consumers and customers a reasonable means to "opt-out" of the disclosure of that information, in compliance with Regulation S-P. Once a consumer elects to opt-out, the Adviser must honor the election as soon as reasonably practicable. The opt-out election remains in effect until the consumer revokes it.

Document Destruction Policy

The Adviser is required to take reasonable measures to guard against access to information derived from credit reports or other customer information when disposing of it, such as shredding such information, entering into a contract with a company that is in the business of disposing of consumer information in a manner consistent with Regulation S-P, destroying or erasing electronic documents that contain consumer information, and monitoring employee compliance with disposal and destruction procedures. Document destruction, as well as document disposal, with respect to personal information are discussed further in Appendix L1.

V. Administration of Privacy Policy

Designation of Responsibility

the Compliance Officer shall be responsible for implementing this Privacy Policy and all questions regarding this Policy should be directed to the Compliance Officer.

Amendment of the Privacy Policy

The Privacy Policy may be amended only by action of the Compliance Officer.

Non-Compliance

An employee will report to the Compliance Officer any material breach of this Privacy Policy of which the employee has become aware. Upon being informed of any such breach, the Compliance Officer is authorized to take any such action he or she deems necessary or appropriate to enforce this Privacy Policy and otherwise comply with Regulation S-P.

VI. Compliance with Other Applicable Privacy Laws

The Adviser has adopted the policies and procedures with respect to the California Consumer Privacy Act in Appendix L1A.

VII. Program for Protecting Customer Information

In adopting the Program, the Adviser seeks to (i) promote the security and confidentiality of customer information; (ii) protect against any anticipated threats or hazards to the security or integrity of customer information; and (iii) protect against unauthorized access to or use of customer information that could result in substantial harm or inconvenience to any consumer, employee, investor or securityholder who is a natural person.

the Compliance Officer and his designees are responsible for implementing and maintaining the Program.

Identifying Internal and External Risks

The Program is designed to identify foreseeable internal and external risks to the security, confidentiality and integrity of customer information³ that could result in the unauthorized disclosure, misuse, alteration, destruction or other compromise of such customer information. Periodically, the Adviser will assess and evaluate the likelihood and potential damage of these threats and the sufficiency of any safeguards in place to control such risks (the "Risk Assessment"). Where appropriate, the Program will be revised to address such risks. At a minimum, the Risk Assessment will include a consideration of the risks with respect to:

- Employee training and management, including instructing and periodically reminding employees of the Adviser's legal requirement and policy to keep customer information secure and confidential;
- Information systems on which customer information is maintained, including network and software design, as well as information processing, storage, transmission, retrieval and disposal; and

³ "Customer information" is any record containing nonpublic personal information about a customer of the Adviser, whether in paper, electronic, or other form, that is handled or maintained by or on behalf of the Adviser or its affiliates.

- Detecting, preventing and responding to attacks, intrusions, or other system failures.

Design and Implementation of Safeguards

Information safeguards will be designed and implemented to control the risks identified through the Risk Assessment, and the effectiveness of the safeguards' key controls, systems and procedures will be regularly tested or otherwise monitored.

Overseeing Service Providers

Reasonable steps will be taken to determine that the service providers⁴ who have been selected and retained by the Adviser, at a minimum, maintain sufficient customer information safeguard procedures to detect and respond to security breaches. Moreover, reasonable procedures will be implemented to discover and respond to widely known security failures by service providers. Finally, all contracts with service providers must contain assurances that such service providers have implemented and will maintain such safeguards.

Evaluation and Maintenance of the Program

The Program will be periodically adjusted, as necessary or appropriate, based on: (i) results of testing and monitoring pursuant to the Program; (ii) any material changes to the business and operation of the Adviser; and (iii) any other circumstances that may have a material impact on the Adviser's information security system.

⁴ A "service provider" is any person or entity that receives, maintains, processes, or otherwise is permitted access to customer information through its provision of services directly to the Adviser. This may include: core processing; information and transaction processing and settlement activities; Internet-related services; security monitoring; systems development and maintenance; aggregation services; digital certification services, and call centers. If the Fund's administrator (or any other third party) receives, maintains, processes, or otherwise is permitted access to customer information as a result of its duties for the Adviser, then it would be considered a service provider.
